A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the derangement of other organs.

If you have sour or bad taste in the morning, poor appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel [illegible] sick headache, frequent [illegible] small of back, gnawing or distressful feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, sometimes sour "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more thoroughly than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a few of these symptoms will be present at one time, but they point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and batter griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION

JOHN S. WISE'S TRIBUTE TO LEE

No man ever commanded more absolutely the love and trust of his soldiers than Robert E. Lee. Their devotion was not that of the reckless followers of Napoleon. It was like the love and trust of children for a father. He rode and walked and talked among them like a father with his sons. They knew his great mind planned their safety as well as their glory; they knew he was faultlessly brave; absolutely free from personal designs: that his heart and soul were wrapt up in them; that he shared their triumphs and their sufferings as truly as if he were a private soldier.

Lee's place in the Virginia heart is next to Washington, whom he much resembled—in some things even ahead of Washington. There was more love in Lee's composition than in Washington's.

I count it an inestimable privilege that I knew this great man—not as an equal or an intimate, of course, but as a very humble and a very insignificant young person who was allowed to touch the hem of his garment.

I knew all the other great military leaders of that period—Grant, Johnston, Sherman, Sheridan—had many opportunities to observe them in public and in private. None of them impressed me as did General Lee. Possibly I was partial, but I do not think so. About that war I am a philosopher. It was inevitable, and the men on both sides were equally sincere and equally entitled to respect. Neither victory nor defeat decided the question who was the greatest soldier. History must decide that upon the facts, viewed without bias when all passion has subsided.

With the same satisfaction I feel that I have viewed the Rockies, Niagara, the boundless billows of mid-ocean the starry vault of heaven amidst inanimate things; I thank God that I was permitted to see Robert E Lee among men. All these represent the best that nature can produce."—[From "General Lee As I Knew Him," by John S. Wise, in The Circle for January.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Benefits a City Councilman at Kingston, Jamaica.

Mr. W. O'Reilly Fogarty, who is a member of the City Council at Kingston, Jamaica, West Indies, writes as follows: One bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy had good effect on a cough that was giving me trouble and I think I should have been more quickly relieved if I had continued the remedy. That it was beneficial and quick in relieving me there is no doubt and it is my intention to obtain another bottle." For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

MOTHER AND WIFE ON STAND.

The two most important witnesses to be produced in the defense of Harry K. Thaw took the witness stand in New York yesterday afternoon. They were Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and Mrs. William Thaw, respectively wife and mother of the man who killed Stanford White.

The examination of the older woman lasted only an hour, when it was temporarily interrupted on account of her feeble health. She will resume the stand some time next week.

She was followed by her son's young wife, who had testified about an hour when the proceedings of the day were brought to an end by a motion made by the district attorney.

Mrs. William Thaw's testimony was largely a repetition of the story she told at the first trial.

Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw brought her story down to the time she told Thaw in Paris of her relations with Stanford White.

When she had reached this point, and it was plain that Mr. Littleton intended to go on thence much as Mr. Delmas did in the first trial, the district attorney rose and moved that the courtroom be cleared of spectators.

He explained his action by saying that many newspaper had spread broadcast on the occasion of the first trial all the details of a revolting story. In his opinion no more shocking and indecent display had ever been made in the columns of newspapers than was then made by a number of publications. To permit a repetition of that sort of thing, said the district attorney, was to strike a blow at the welfare of the community.

Justice Dowling said he would issue no such order unless it was concurred in by counsel for the defense.

Mr. Littleton promptly said he would concur in the district attorney's motion because he believed such an order would go far to protect the sensibility of the witness.

The matter was not determined when adjournment was ordered until Monday morning. At that time counsel for each side will submit affidavits on the question and Justice Dowling will make his decision.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

SATURDAY EVENING. JAN. 18, 1908.

MR. CULP, vice president of the Southern Railway Company, delivered a speech at the annual dinner of the Columbia, S. C., Chamber of Commerce, on Wednesday last, in which he very sensibly reviewed the condition of affairs now prevailing in the south and of the mutual interests of the railroads and the public. After speaking of the financial depression which recently extended over the country he said:

But these things are now past, and, though business conditions for the time being are not as favorable as we would like to have them, I believe that we stand at the beginning of a new era. It is time to look forward, rather than backward, and, uniting in harmonious co-operation, with faith in each other, in southern institutions, and in the wonderful richness of southern resources, to hasten the business revival in our section, and to carry southern development and prosperity forward to a higher level than has heretofore been attained. The railways of the south stand ready to do their part to the best of their ability. Their managers are fully alive to the splendid possibilities of this section and to the fact that its railways can prosper only as a result of the prosperity of southern communities. Speaking for the Southern Railway Company, I can say that it will be its policy, in the future as it has been in the past, to co-operate with the people of every community along its lines in every movement looking to southern development. From the formation of the company, this has been its uniform policy. Through its passenger department, it is constantly advertising the advantages of the south to tourists and prospective residents, and its Land and Industrial Department is devoted exclusively to the work of bringing the south to the attention of the civilized world, and bringing men and women seeking to better their conditions into touch with southern opportunity. The expenses of this work are borne entirely by the company, which looks for its reward to the ultimate benefit that will come to it through the increased prosperity of the communities along its lines.

Undoubtedly the Southern Railway has done and is doing much to develop the south, and thinking people deplore many of the unnecessary attacks which are constantly being made upon the road by the legislatures of many of the southern States.

CONTROL that the American meat trust gradually has been acquiring over the London meat market was brought to the notice of the civil authorities of that city on Thursday at a meeting of the Court of Common Council. The subject was brought up in the form of a resolution as follows:

We regret to learn that the trade of the central meat market gradually is getting into the hands of the meat trust, to the detriment of the consumer, and we call upon the corporation, as the market authority, to safeguard the interests of consumers.

It is alleged that the price of all beef in England is dictated by the Chicago packers. Retailers attempting to cut rates declare that they are at once confronted with a refusal of further supplies. The trust sends out quotations every morning. It is hoped that the English people will deal with the meat trust in a more effective manner than do the people of the United States.

THE State Corporation Commission has cited the Adams and the Southern Express Companies to appear and show cause why they should not be fined for making excess charges for shipments made in this State. The allegation is that the companies have charged and collected more than the prescribed rates of the corporation commission. January 27 is the date fixed for the hearing. These express companies should be taken in hand and their punishment made to fit their crimes. Their charges are exhorbitant and out of all reason but the people seem to have no redress.

THE House of Delegates yesterday under a suspension of the rules passed the bill reported from the finance committee making an appropriation of $125,000 annually to the sinking fund for the purpose of extinguishing the public debt of the State. The amount heretofore annually appropriated for this purpose has been $42,000. The increase is in accord with the recommendations of the governor's message, and, it is said, will strengthen the credit of the State and add to the value of its bonds. This is one of the best steps taken by the legislature.

Washington.

[Special Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., January 18.

Editor Nipsic, of the Podunk Weekly, which has been described as useless for years, has stirred up, resurrected and aroused attention again by his caustic comments on the navy [illegible] auxiliary [illegible] Philadelphia, [illegible] Secretary Metcalfe.

The President has decided to appoint a commission composed of scientists from five of the leading American universities to pass upon the problems brought up by the enforcement of the pure food law. The institutions to respond are: California, Virginia, Chicago, John Hopkins, and Yale. The appointment of this commission means that Dr. Harvey Wiley, chief chemist of the Agricultural Department, is to be be shorn of some of his power. Representatives Hayes, Needham and Smith, of California, called on the President today to protest against Dr. Wiley's ruling against the use of sulphur in the preservation of dryed fruits. Wiley has cut down the allowance to one third permitted by Germany. The President asked the congressmen if they would agree to abide by the decision of a commission selected from five of the leading Universities, and they assured him they would be very glad to do so. The President said he would write to the universities mentioned, and ask for the name of two or three chemists from which he would make his selection.

Friends of Secretary Loeb think his election as president of the Washington Railway and Electric Company at the meeting of the directors this afternoon is practically assured. He will supplant Gov. Harries as the active manager of the road.

That Messrs. Taft and Foraker have been flirting again, is evident from developments of the past week. Foraker is out in a long authorized interview today in which he comments on remarks made by Mr. Taft at the dinner given the latter by the Ohio congressional delegation last Monday night. Taft took occasion to say some nice things about the Ohio Senator, referring particularly to the fact that it was Foraker when governor of the State who gave him his start on his judicial career by appointing him to the Superior Court bench in Cincinnati. It was the recollection of this incident, said Taft, that often kept him from saying acrimonious things about Foraker. The Senator, in his interview, says he is not surprised that Taft thinks kindly of him, as they have been friends for many years. He then proceeds to chide Taft in a sorrowful fatherly sort of way for permitting his manners to stir up such a political mess in Ohio. Foraker, for the first time, admits that efforts had been made by Senator Crane and other friends of both men to bring about an understanding which had proven futile. The Senator further makes it clear that he will receive sympathetically any advances to be made in the future from the other side, looking to a settlement of the squabble, and goes to some pains to show why it is not possible for him to take the first step. Charles P. Taft, of Cincinnati, is here consulting with his brother and the President. Although none of the Taft folks will admit that an agreement is in sight, it is known that the Secretary and his friends are considerably disturbed over the situation in Ohio. A divided delegation from his own State would not only hurt Taft in the national convention but might result in causing Ohio to go democratic in the election should Taft be nominated.

After consultation with President Roosevelt today, James T. McCleary announced his intention of resigning as Second Assistant Postmaster General, in order to become a candidate for Congress in the second Minnesota district, in which he was defeated last year on a high tariff platform. He will make his new canvass on the some platform.

Neither house of Congress was in session today and things about the Capitol were rather quiet today.

The plaintiff sending the torpedo flotilla to Bunos Ayres, which was made the subject of a special request by the Argentine government was upset today by the order directing that the destroyers accompany the battleship fleet on the journey from Rio.

Mr. Carlin has introduced bills in the House, granting an increase of pensions to Joseph C. Chilton and to Benton Lynn. Senator Martin has introduced a bill for the relief of the vestry of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, of Alexandria.

KIND WORDS FOR THE GAZETTE

The Alexandria Gazette has the remarkable distinction of 108 years of continuous publication, beginning Jan. 1st, 1800. It was published as early as 1784, but the regular files run back no farther than 1800. And we can see no reason why the Gazette should not live 108 years more. Age does not wither it. —[Norfolk Landmark.

That fine old Virginia growth, the Alexandria Gazette and Virginia Advertiser, closed its 108th volume with the end of the year 1907. With characteristic modesty and adherence to exact facts, it dates its birth from 1800, but copies of it printed as far back as 1793 are in existence, while the court records of Alexandria show that it was published in 1784. So the Gazette really is in its 124th year. Deservedly it is one of the journalistic landmarks of the State and the country. Its long life has been honorable and useful and it lives true to its traditions of conservatism, honesty and accuracy. May it continue to thrive and outlive that esteemed Chinese contemporary which recently was compelled to suspend publication after a precarious existence of something more than a thousand years.—[Richmond News Leader.

With the New Year the hoary but virile Alexandria Gazette passed its 108th year. This is a great record. May the long and useful career of the Gazette be continued at least to another generation.—[Virginia Citizen.

The Alexandria Gazette has completed its 108th year and it continues to lead among the best papers in the State. It publishes all the news in a readable, acceptable form without poster headlines or fake sensations. Its editorial department is original, forcible and free from time-serving. The Gazette is one of the oldest institutions of our State and one in whose continued success every citizen can take pride.—[Manassas Journal.

Chief and Advisors Massacred.

Bombay, India, Jan. 18—The chief of Sabong and twenty-six of his chief advisors have been massacred, according to news from the Chin Hills, for attempting to force a neighboring town to pay tribute to them. The chief appears to have been attempting for some time to enforce claims of a kind of sovereignty over the town where he met his death, and was finally invited there with his followers to a banquet at which the slaughter was to have been discussed. They were slain as they sat at the table.

POET'S SONG AT HIS BIER.

A dispatch from Augusta, Ga., says: "To the sweet air 'Maryland, My Maryland,' the mortal remains of James Ryder Randall, its author, were laid to rest in the City Cemetery there about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon after a service that surpassed anything Augusta has ever seen.

"Sacred Heart Church, the largest in this section, was filled to overflowing long before the announced hour for the beginning of solemn requiem mass, sung by Rev. William Macready, S. J., and a choir composed of the best voices of the city, regardless of denomination. The panegyric delivered by Rev. John Kenny, S. J., was a remarkable tribute to Mr. Randall, and left few dry eyes in the great edifice. The absolution was pronounced by Rev. Francis Lonergan, a lifelong friend of Mr. Randall.

"At the cemetery a picked chorus of 300 voices sang 'My Maryland,' following the church's 'Ashes to ashes and dust to dust.' Then 11 male voices sang 'Still, Still with Thee.'

"The general love and regard in which Mr. Randall was held was testified to by the immense number and beauty of the floral designs. The Daughters of the Confederacy sent a mammoth pillow in red roses that filled a wagon by itself. The News-Chronicle, of which Mr. Randall was once editor, sent a lyre in white flowers that was as tall as a man. There were three Maryland State flags and so many smaller designs that the family burying plat was unable to accommodate all."

MINE ACCIDENT.

According to reports received in Pittsburg yesterday morning, the Catsburg mine, located near Monongahela, Pa., and owned by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, is burning and 200 men are imprisoned behind a wall of flames.

It is said that when the shaft ceased work for the day Thursday afternoon a final shot was made in an entry located about two and one-half miles from the main entrance to the mine, which is a drift one. The charge, so it is said, bought down more than the usual amount of coal, and carelessness on the part of some of the men working allowed some the woodwork to ignite, and it was not extinguished.

The blaze spread rapidly, and by the time the night shaft reached their places the fire was beyond control and walled in those just about ready for work.

Whether the men at work in the mine have perished is not known.

Monongahela, Jan. 18.—The fire area in the Catsburg mine near here has been bratticed off and it is expected the fire will have died out within the next few hours. Only a small part of the mine is afire. There was no one in the mine at the time.

It is very important and in fact it is absolutely necessary to health that we give relief to the stomach promptly at the first signs of troubles. "I had run down in weight to 135 pounds, and coughing was constant, both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and continued this for about six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone and I was restored my normal weight, 170 pounds." Today's Telegraphic News.

The Japanese Navy.

Tokio, Jan. 16.—Emphasis was laid by Premier Saionji in an address to the country today on the friendly relations between Japan and the rest of the world. He ignored the talk of friction with China, declared Canada satisfied by the settlement of its immigration problem, and predicted that it will be easy to meet the requests of the United States.

Minister of Marine Saito also gave out a supplement to his interview denying that the Japanese fleet is engaged in any maneuvers hostile to the United States. "No vessel of the Japanese fleet is nearer America than Kokosuka," he said. "Every battleship is at its home station either at Kokosuka, Kure or Sasebo. The torpedo and submarine flotillas are with them. The only Japanese cruisers out of home waters are one each at Hankow, Fuchow, Amoy and Kin Chow, two at Shanghai and three off Korea."

"I can positively confirm Admiral Saito's statement," corroborates American Naval Attache Commander Dougherty. "No, Japanese vessel is absent from home waters except those on the regular Chinese stations and a few old vessels at Korea."

The Thaw Trial.

New York, Jan. 18.—Even though counsel for both sides state that the testimony of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw should be heard in private, it is no certainty today that Justice Dowling will issue the asked for order on Monday. He has carefully examined the decisions called to his attention by District Attorney Jerome, but has yet to be convinced that anything will be served by a "star chamber" investigation. Had the District Attorney tried to keep the story of the younger Mrs. Thaw from the public at the original trial he would now get every encouragement from Justice Dowling, but his plea for secrecy this time is not received with the utmost favor.

It is generally believed, therefore, that when the trial is resumed on Monday Mrs. Evelyn Thaw in open court will resume her recital of her life from the time she first met Stanford White.

Mrs. William Thaw is reported as still quite ill at her apartments today. When she will resume her story to the jury is unknown.

The general impression now is that the case will go to the jury some time week after next.

Attorney Littleton today changed his plans in the Thaw case and as a result Mrs. Evelyn Thaw will not resume the witness stann on Monday.

The Revolution in Haiti.

Port, Au Prince, Haiti, Jan. 18.—President Alexis' army, delayed by the diplomatic corps' protest against the bombardment of the revolutionists in the towns of Gonaives and St. Marc, are now preparing for an immediate assault on the foe's positions.

The revolutionary movement has as yet made so little progress that a single defeat will probably completely scatter the rebels. In the event of a victory for their side, however, General Firmin, former Haitien minister to France, long a presidential aspirant and now an exile on the island of St. Thomas, will likely be brought here as leader of the proposed new government.

President Alexis has issued a proclamation accusing the revolutioneries of murdering General Jadotte, the government commander at Gonaives, who was killed in the brush when the rebels seized the town.

Of the reported action before St. Marc no details are known further than that the rebel general Deslouches was slain.

Twins Born While Woman is Freezing

Pittsburg, Jan. 18.—With the temperature 20 degrees below freezing, a policeman found Katie Nejohe, a young woman, prostrate on the sidewalk on Mary street, in the mill district, yesterday at 4:30 o'clock almost unconscious from pain. The young woman could only say in broken English that she had no home. Before the policeman could summon assistance the woman gave birth on the sidewalk to a lusty male child.

With the aid of a woman in a house nearby, the sufferer was almost dragged into a stable a few feet away, where a second male child was born.

Physicians arrived a few minutes later. The mother and twins were removed to the South Side Hospital, and all were out of danger last night. The woman says she had been walking the streets for hours hoping to locate some friends.

Million-Dollar Fire.

Chicago, Jan. 18—Losses which will amount to nearly $1,000,000 were sustained early today in a fire which destroyed the six-story building of the McNeil and Higgins Grocery Company. In addition, heavy damages were sustained by Reid, Murdock & Co., the Banner Supply Company, the Union Stone Ware Company, and the Manship and Boltz Envelope Company, which occupied adjoining structures. A section of the Illinois Tunnel Company's system had just been completed under the grocery house and tons of water were poured into this.

Workmen Killed by Fall.

New Britain, Conn., Jan. 18.—William McAvey, 25, of this city, and Thomas Kelly, 23, of Camden, N. J., were killed by a fall of ninety feet from the new tank building erected for the New Britain Gas Company today. They were working on staging fastening rivets when a supporting rope broke and both were hurled to the ground. Kelly was instantly killed and McAvey, who sustained a fracture skull, broken leg and arm died soon afteeward. A third man on the staging managed to grasp a rivet and hung in mid air until rescued.

In a word, Ely's Cream Balm as a remedy, not a delusion. All druggists, 50 cents, or mailed by Ely's Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

From Richmond.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Jan. 18.—A flank movement believed to have the approval of the R., F. & P. Railroad was made in the House today when a bill was introduced providing that the R., F. & P. track shall not be paralleled until the Richmond and Chesapeake Bay Company has built a road from Ashland to Tappahannock.

A bill was introduced in the House today calling upon the auditor for an itemized account of expenditures for water, coal and ice for the State building last year. The expenditures were about $2,000 greater than for the previous year.

Startling Wireless Messages.

New York, Jan. 18.—Another account of an accident to one of the United States battleship fleet now at Rio Janeiro was brought to this city today by the steamer Advance. Its wireless apparatus last night picked up two messages saying the battleship Louisiana had been destroyed.

The first thing the passengers wanted to know was if there was any confirmation of the message, and they were greatly relieved to hear there was none. Where the wireless messages came from could not be learned.

The first message read: "Magazine of battleship Louisiana exploded off Rio. All on board lost."

This was followed by a message reading: Boilers of battleship Louisiana exploded off Rio and all on board lost."

The only explanation offered was that yesterday's rumor of the Connecticut's destruction was being flashed by the wireless station and got mixed.

Shot Eagle Child Stealer.

Goldsboro, N. C., Jan. 18.—William Woods, who lives on the Pee Dee river, in Richmond county, yesterday shot and killed an eagle as it was flying away with his infant child. The eagle swooped down and picked up the child in its talons and laboriously began flopping off. Woods ran for his rifle, and, at the risk of shooting the child, fired and injured the wing of the bird. It came down slowly and the child was saved after the bird had come to earth. Woods fired another shot and killed the bird.

The Fleet.

Rio Janeiro, Jan. 18.—With the torpedo destroyer Lawrence undergoing machinery repairs and the Hopkins in dry dock for the shipping of a new propeller, the destroyer flotilla is being put in order as quickly as possible for a hurry-up trip to Magellane Straits which it is hoped to reach as soon as the battleship squadron. The intention is for the torpedo flotilla to sail January 21. The collier Arethusa arrived today, but will leave for Buenos Ayres ahead of either the torpedo or battleship fleets.

Verdict in Walsh Case.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—After being out 32 hours, the jury in the case of Banker John R. Walsh reached a verdict about 3 o'clock this morning and Walsh was found guilty of wrecking the Chicago bank. After being instructed to write out their verdict to be handed to the court, they went to their hotel to retire.

Walsh was found guilty on 54 counts out of 150. The jury declared him not guilty of the others.

Thrown from Auto and Killed.

Baltimore, Jan. 18.—George L. Billups, proprietor of the Pimlico Hotel, and his wife were instantly killed early today by being thrown from an automobile at the Pimlico entrance to Druid Hill Park. Leo H. Shaed, of Elkridge, Md., the owner and driver of the machine, was internally, but not fatally injured. In turning the curve to the park the machine skidded and upset, smashing to bits.

Robbery Frustrated.

New Canada, Conn., Jan. 18.—Five yeggmen entered the postoffice here early today blew the outer door of the safe and were attempting to force the inner door, where a large amount of money and stamps was concealed, when they were interrupted by night watchmen. Three of the burglars opened fire on the watchmen. Although the watchmen returned the fire the robbers escaped. They secured only about $10.

Proud Father at 81.

Winsted, Conn., Jan. 18.—Francis C. Wilcox, aged 81, of East Berlin, has realized the ambition of his life and now has an heir to hand the name of Wilcox down to posterity. Half a dozen years ago he buried his first wife, with whom he had lived 56 years. They had no children. Two years ago Wilcox married again. His second wife was young and good looking. Yesterday she gave birth to a fine boy.

New Lights Cut Egg Prices.

Mantua, N. J., Jan. 18.—The new electric street lights have caused several kinds of revolution in this old town, but the oddest is the effect upon the price of eggs. It is veraciously reported that the hens, deceived by the brightness, are laying eggs at night and the roosters crowing at such unseemly, indecorous hours that an injunction is discussed.

THE GIRL AND THE BEE.

A Story of the Ignorance of a City Girl.

The city girl coming down to breakfast at the farm house and observing a plate of honey on the table said, "Oh; I see you keep a bee."

That's about the way some people talk about the blight of baldness—just as if a bald head was something one got all at once instead of being the result of long depletion by an insidious germ which thrives upon the roots of the hair and succumbs to only one known remedy, Newbro's Herpicide.

Newbro's Herpicide is not a tonic any more than electricity is a fluid. It is an extaminator, pure and simple.

New York Stock Market.

New York, January 18.—There was increasing activity and strength during the first hour in a limited number of stocks, although the majority of stocks usually regarded as active were neglected and presented no important feature. The market closed irregular but generally firm.

Badly Mixed Up.

Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience; he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed for blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by all druggists, fifty cents.

B. & O. TO ENTER RICHMOND.

It was positively stated in Richmond yesterday that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will in the spring operate a passenger service between Richmond and New York, coming into Richmond from Washington over the tracks of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac, a one-sixth interest in which latter road is owned by the Baltimore and Ohio.

The Baltimore and Ohio will lower the schedule between Richmond city and New York four hours. The scheme has been in contemplation ever since the new union station in Washington was decided upon.

Both lines enter Washington through the new station, which makes it easy for the Baltimore and Ohio to use the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac tracks from Washington to Richmond.

It is understood that the Baltimore and Ohio is at present arranging to establish a passenger and freiget office in Richmond. It is probable that there will not be considerable traffic in freight, but the passenger feature will be a big help and will doubtless pay the Baltimore and Ohio well.

LEAP YEAR DANCE.

One of the most delightful dances ever held in the city was the Leap Year hop last night at McBurney's Hall. The occasion was a german given by a number of society ladies of the city in honor of the members of the Alexandria German Club. The committee having the dance in charge, which was composed of Miss Georgie French and Miss Mary Phillips, deserve much praise and credit for the able manner in which the affair was arranged and conducted. An amusing feature of the dance was the filling out of the gentlemen's cards by the ladies. During the intermission supper was served to the gentlemen by the ladies and they proved equal to the occasion. The chaperons were Mrs. George S. French, Mrs. George A. Mushbach, Mrs. Frances Danenhower, Mrs. Richard Gibson, Mrs. E. H. Kemper, Mrs. A. W. Armstrong, Mrs. Edward S. Fawcett, Mrs. J. Sidney Douglas, and Mrs. Lewis S. Scott. The music was furnished by Schroeder's Orchestra, of Washington.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

The Alexandria Electric Company has notified the city authorities that "on January 15th it had completed the change of city arc lights from 6-6 ampere to 7-5 ampere and hoped the change would prove satisfactory." Some time last May, Mr. Philander Belts' an electrical expert, by authority of the City Council was engaged by the committee on streets and committee on light to make an examination of the new electric plant and outside construction, and report on the same. This Mr. Belts did, and as the lamps were not 2,000 candle power, but about twenty per cent less, the electric company has rebated all their bills against the city one-fifth, and promised that just as fast as new lamps could be obtained they would be installed. As the company now informs the authorities that they have replaced all the 85 old lamps with new lamps up to the 2,000 candle power, of course they will be paid the full contract price if the light is up to the standard.

THE PROPOSED NEW TOWN.

The effort to incorporate the villages of Del Ray and St. Elmo into a town and seek a corporation under the name of Potomac is meeting with some success, many citizens of these places favoring it while others are opposed. Before any amount of literature is printed the incorporators should know that the name Potomac, if adopted by them, would be turned down by the Postoffice Department for it would be a duplication of the name in the postoffice guide, as the postoffice known heretofore as Quantico has been changed to Potomac and is so published in the official book of the department.

MIDGETS' LIFE.

George Midgett during the time he was confined in the jail in this city wrote an autobiography and turned the same over to Warden Candler, who, at the request of the condemned man, will keep it under seal until after Midgets has paid the penalty of the law. The autobiography covers over sixty pages of foolscap paper, written on both sides and across the pages. All the adventures of the negro are described.

Midgets was visited yesterday by his spiritual advisor, Rev. Alexander Truatt, to whom he again positively denied his guilt. He was urged by the preacher to confess if he was guilty and replied that he would die declaring that he had not committed the murder. He inquired the reason for his removal at the dead of night from his cell in the city jail to one in the county jail and when told that it was to protect him from mob violence, expressed great horror at the idea of being lynched by a mob. He added that if the law and law officers hang him he would not complain.

PERSONAL.

Rev. A. J. Van Inglegem, Virginia missionary and editor of the Catholic Monthly Missionary, will preach tomorrow in St. Mary's Church at the 10:30 mass. Father Van Inglegem's fame and name are too well known to need comment.

Chief Pettey, of the fire department, who has been seriously ill, is able to be out again.

Mr. H. J. Grubb, agent in this section of the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, has returned from Springfield, where he went to attend the meeting held this week of the general agents of that company.

Mr. William H. Cox is confined to his home by illness.

LECTURE ROOM REJUVENATED.

On Monday night next, Rev. Richard L. Carne, having received a gift of $100 from one of his old students which he put into the hands of another, a mechanic, who used it so well that he turned an old lecture room, which had become a receptacle for all kinds of things, into a beautiful literary and lecture room, will instruct such Catholic boys as will spend two hours there, ending at 9 p. m. every night but Sunday. The exercises will begin with an entertainment and speeches on Monday night at 7 o'clock, and the room will be open to all.

POLICE COURT.

There have been but few cases before the Police Court recently. There was no session of that tribunal this morning and but one case was upon the docket. A young colored woman named Mary Williams, who had been arrested by officers Bell and Henderson, charged with drunken and disorderly conduct and insulting language toward the officers, forfeited $5 collateral by failing to appear.

NIGHT SCHOOL.

The night school recently opened in Washington school building is not meeting with the encouragement which was expected and the attendance is small. It was believed that a number of young men who worked during the day wanted an opportunity to study and be taught at night, but the experience of the school shows that the number is small.

Alexandria Gazette

SATURDAY EVENING, JAN. 18, 1908.

He Knew of but One.

Many years ago De Scott Evans, the artist, took a trip to Jamaica, and upon his return to New York he exhibited a number of pictures that he had painted during his outing.

One day a man who had been looking through the studio stopped before a certain picture and asked:

"What does this represent?"

"That," said Mr. Evans, "is a scene in Jamaica."

"Jamaica?" echoed the visitor. "That's strange. I don't remember ever seeing anything like that in Jamaica."

"You have been there, then, have you?" the artist inquired.

"Oh, yes! I live there."

"Well, you surely must be acquainted with this place then. It is a street scene in the principal town of the island."

The man from Jamaica looked at Mr. Evans for a moment as if he thought the latter must be daft. Then he emphatically declared:

"I live in Jamaica, and there isn't a street in the town that bears the remotest resemblance to that picture."

The mention of Jamaica as a town cleared away the mist.

"I see," said Mr. Evans, "you live in Jamaica, N. Y., don't you?"

"Yes," replied the suburbanite. "Is there another Jamaica anywhere?"

They Lacked Team Work.

There was small respect in Captain Maybury's mind for the brains of the artists whom he and his wife harbored and fed during the summer. "They are a well meaning lot of folks as ever lived," he said confidentially to a neighbor, "but when it comes to common sense every last living one of 'em needs a guardeen."

"Act kind o' crazy, I reckon," said the neighbor.

"Well, 'tain't so much that," admitted Captain Maybury, "as 'tis that they lack gumption and sprawl. Two of 'em were talking to me about the 'sunset light' last night. 'We work fast as we can, but we can't ketch it,' they told me. 'It fades so fast, and before you know it the glow is dead.'

"I've got some used to their queer talk, but that did seem plumb foolish. 'If two of you can't ketch it,' I says, 'why in tunket don't the whole eight of you set to work together, same as if you had a fence to paint?' But if you'll believe me, I could tell by their looks they'd never thought of such a thing before. They're simple, that's what they are."—Youth's Companion.

The Old Time Almanac.

"It is astonishing what faith the old school farmer used to put in his almanac," said a farmer of the new school, a graduate of an agricultural college.

"My father was an old school farmer, and in June he would consult his almanac to see if we were going to have a clear Christmas. What though the almanac usually went back on him? Sometimes its predictions were true, and one accurate prophecy counterbalanced in my father's mind fifty miscures.

"Once I crossed the ocean with the old man. We sat at the captain's table, and the first night out my father, laying down his spoon, said anxiously:

"'Captain, hev ye got an almanac on board?'

"'No,' the captain answered.

"The old man frowned and shook his head.

"'Then, by gosh,' he said, 'we'll jest hev to take the weather as she comes.'"—Los Angeles Times.

Dickens and His Beard.

Frith painted Charles Dickens' portrait when the novelist began to grow a beard and told this anecdote of the occasion:

"Well, one day when Dickens was sitting the servant came up to tell me Sir Edwin Landseer was below. Dickens said, 'Let's have him up; he hasn't seen my beard and mustache yet.' Charles Landseer and Edwin had been abroad for some time together in Italy, and they hadn't all met for months. Edwin came up and took no notice of the beard, and at last Dickens said: 'Well, Lanny, what about all this? D'you like it? Think it's an improvement?' 'Oh, a great improvement,' Landseer said quite gravely. 'It hides so much of your face.' Dickens wasn't the least offended. He'd let 'Lanny' say anything."

All Were Prime Ministers.

An eminent surgeon was once sent for by Cardinal Du Bois, prime minister of France, to perform a very serious operation upon him. The cardinal said to him, "You must not expect to treat me in the same rough manner as you treat your poor, miserable wretches at your Hotel Dieu."

"My lord," replied the surgeon, with great dignity, "every one of those miserable wretches, as your eminence is pleased to call them, is a prime minister in my eyes."—Success Magazine.

Down In the Depths.

The mermaid was rummaging the sunken ship.

"I want to see if I can find one of those hand mirrors the comic papers always picture us as using," she said.

For vanity, alas, is not confined to that comparatively insignificant portion of the earth's surface known as dry land.—Chicago Tribune.

The Crowding Sex.

Young and beautiful, the wife of a certain millionaire is alleged to find her only amusement in stealing. Even among millionaires we see the tendency of women to push men out of their jobs.—London Opinion.

There is a strength of quiet endurance as significant of courage as the most daring feats of prowess.—Tuckerman.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism.

Do you know that rheumatic pains can be relieved? If you doubt this just try one application of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It will make rest and sleep possible, and that certainly means a great deal to any one afflicted with rheumatism. For sale by W. T. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve is especially recommended for piles. Sold by W. F. Creighton.

No Place For Him Here.

"Your honor," said a prosecuting attorney in a backwoods court, "the prisoner at the bar is charged with killing one of the most exemplary citizens of this county. Thomas Jones, your honor, was in every respect a model man. He was a member of the church; he was never known to bet on horses, play poker, drink whisky or use tobacco. He'—

"Hold on a minute," said the judge. "You say he never bet on a horse?"

"That's what I said, your honor."

"Never was known to play a game?"

"Never, your honor."

"And he never drank whisky?"

"Never drank a drop in his life."

"And he didn't chew tobacco?"

"Never took a chew in his life."

"Well, then," said the judge, "I don't see what he wanted to live for. There wasn't anything in life for him, and I don't see why he ain't about as well off dead as alive. Release the prisoner, Mr. Sheriff, and call the next case."—Nashville American.

A Too Busy Life.

The messenger from Mars surveyed the multitude which had gathered to meet him with undisguised interest. Nor did he hesitate to propound such inquiries as his curiosity prompted.

"Where do you all live?" he asked, speaking generally.

"I live in the future," said a young man good humoredly.

"And I in the past," said an old man.

"How odd! And does none of you live in the present?"

There was an awkward silence.

"Pardon me," said the Martian hastily; "perhaps I press my questions too closely."

At this a voice from the outskirts of the crowd spoke up, saying, "We have not yet learned to live in the present without interruption of business, don't you know."—Puck.

Wise Counsel From the South.

"I want to give some valuable advice to those who suffer with lame back and kidney trouble," says J. R. Blankenship, of Beck Town. "I have proved to an absolute certainty that Electric Bitters will positively cure this distressing condition. The first bottle gave me great relief and after taking a few more bottles I was completely cured, so completely that it becomes a pleasure to recommend this great remedy."
